THE TARIFF BILL.

The Dingley Tariff bill, or what is left of that measure, is now before the Senate. Aldrich of Rhode Island, one of the three Republicans of the Senate Finance Committee who changed the Dingley bill and who has charge of the bill as amended, officially stated in his opening speech in the Senate that the committee believed that the Dingley bill would not yield sufficient revenue to support the Government.

Now when any such revenue experts as Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island and Representative Dingley of Maine disagree on tariff schedules and their revenue producing capacity what are ordinary people to think of the matter? Mr. Dingley says his bill will yield abundant revenue for the requirements of the Government, and leave a surplus with which to retire greenbacks. Mr. Aldrich says the Dingley bill will not yield a revenue adequate for the needs of the Government, much less a surplus. He therefore proposes to increase the duty on sugar, increase the tax on beer and put a duty of 10 cents per pound on tea.

Are these tariff experts like those engaged in the Fair will care and other cases of that character? Do they take the side that pays the highest price for their services? Has Aldrich a greater interest in the sugar trust than Dingley, and does the Rhode Island Senator drink less beer than the Representative from Maine? They differ on the tariff question, though both are Republicans, fully as much as either does with the Silver Democrat and the Silver Republicans, and there must be some cause, other than a political one, for the difference.

It is an indisputable fact that there is a cash balance of about $150,000,000 in the Treasury, besides the gold reserve, proving that the present tariff law, unfair as it is to Western interests, is producing about enough revenue to meet the requirements of the Government.

AGAINST CIVIL SERVICE.

The agitation against the Civil Service system bids fair to result in some good. Several of the heads of departments are attacking the system with vigor, and it is probable that Cleveland's ideas of the extension of Civil Service rules will be considerably modified.

Land Commissioner Hermann takes the view that the rules in all of the departments should be modified in respect to their application to chief clerks, chiefs of divisions, secretaries, clerks, confidential clerks, inspectors and special agents.

If as the situation now indicates, a strong opposition is made to the system, there is but little doubt but what it will be greatly modified and finally abolished.

It has been tried and extreme partisanship has been completely illustrated. The system can be used in this direction with as much, if not more danger to the public service, than the old method of "to the victor belongs the spoils," besides it places men in charge of public business who perhaps may be able to answer a few technical or catch questions, and yet be totally incompetent in executive ability, and every other necessary requirement.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH GOLD CREEK?

Though there are doubtless gold mines, both in gravel and quartz, in the Gold Creek country in northern Elko, people are beginning to wonder why the mines of that section are not producing some of the yellow metal. That the quartz mines are not producing is not surprising, as there are, as yet, no reduction works in the district, but why the placer mines are not yielding dust, if they are anything near so rich as reported, is somewhat astonishing. The season has been unusually favorable for placer mining. The snowfall last winter was above normal in the Gold Creek country. Water has been abundant as the snow melted during the spring, yet, though within a few weeks of midsummer, we have looked in vain in the columns of the Gold Creek News for shipments of bullion or gold dust. Why is this so? Are the Gold Creek placers producing no gold whatever at a season of the year when there is abundance of water in every ravine?

The volunteers who went to Greece from various countries are being disarmed and shipped whence they came as fast as the Greeks can do it. Meanwhile they are marauding and variously giving much trouble. The volunteers from America—dopes mostly of steam ship agents, who wanted their respective fares—no doubt thought they would receive quite an ovation when they reached Athens. Instead they got a chill reception and were hustled off to the front, where they will share the scant rations of the army, pending the next panic and rout, in which they will assist. Such of them as may manage to return to the United States will never leave it again.

The gold exports from the United States for April were $8,629,410. In April 1896 the gold exports were $2,662,250. The supposition is that the gold trust is preparing for another raid on the treasury and another issue of bonds.

THE TARIFF BILL.

GREAT INTEREST MANIFESTED IN IT.

Great Britain Threatens to Abandon the Concert of Powers—Mrs. Durrant Pleads for Her Son.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Senator Allison, Chairman of the Republican Senate Caucus, has appointed as an Advisors' Committee on Finance on the Tariff bill, as provided for in the canons on Monday, Senators Spooner, Platt of New York, and Wilson. The Senators will act with the Republican members of the Finance Committee in passing upon all amendments to the Tariff bill and deciding on all lines of policy bearing upon that measure.

In the Senate this morning the final conference report on the Indian Appropriation bill was reported, but not acted upon.

Allison of Iowa secured the passage of a joint resolution appropriating $225,000 for the deficiencies of the Government printing office.

Public interest on the Tariff bill promises to exceed that on the Cuban resolutions; the galleries of the Senate chamber were crowded from the outset to day.

At 2 o'clock the Senate took up the Tariff bill and the formal reading of the bill began.

The Senate adopted the Chandler resolution authorizing the sending of supplies to the famine sufferers of India by any suitable ship instead of confining them to an American ship.

The first fight on the tariff occurred over the Finance Committee amendment raising the duty on boracic acid from 4 to 5 cents per pound. Vest moved to reduce it to 3 cents. Jones of Arkansas supported him and criticized the committee as adding profits to the English company which was about to purchase all the borax lands and plants in Nevada, California and Oregon. White of California said facetiously that he wanted a share in the distribution of the favors, and said that the English negotiations had failed. Vest's amendment to reduce the duty on borax to 3 cents a pound was defeated—was 20, says 34.

TO SENATOR MASON OF ILLINOIS.

Mrs. R. H. Lindsay Addresses an Open Letter to Him.

The Seattle Daily Times of May 20th, publishes the following open letter to United States Senator Mason of Illinois, who although a new member of the highest law-making body of the land, struck a responsive chord in every true American heart, in his speech on the Cuban resolution. But more than an ordinary interest will be felt when it is known that the open letter to the Senator was written by Mrs. Robert H. Lindsay, formerly a resident of Reno, she being deeply impressed with Senator Mason's speech. The letter is written over the nom de plume of "Batterman Lindsay" and is here presented:

"The Associated Press report of your speech on the Cuban resolution, as given to Western readers in the morning papers, must fire every American heart with sympathy and approval. Every patriot thinks he hears in it an echo of the ringing tones of '76 and '61 which some of us feared we never should hear again, since the phonograph was not invented when the eloquence of those days aroused the American people to deeds of glory.

"To those of us who believe in Revelation and Prophecy, and the coming of the Son of Man, it seems a wonderful and a hopeful sign when a member of the most august legislative body in the world standing in his place warns his fellow senators that the march of the Nazarene is upon them. Aye, it is upon us, and already one who lays his ear to earth may feel the vibrations of multitudinous footsteps, keeping time to one heart beat. Such language seems a startling anachronism from the lips of one who utters it in his place as a member of a party which represents every corporate trust and cruel monopoly riding the American people to-day.

"What have you to do with the 'Civilization of the Nazarene,' the 'Communistic carpenter?' That same carpenter, talking to the respectable property owners of his day, who believed then, as now, that brains (namely, brains given up to money making convolutions solely) must rule'—that same carpenter accused those 'educated classes' in an uncertain terms of borrowing a deal of unnecessary trouble about their neighbors' mites, while neglecting their own beams; and of being solicitous about the outside of the cup and platter while the inside was full of uncleanness.

"Senator Mason, are there no suffering Americans in America? Why this outburst of commiseration for eight hundred Americans in Cuba, when eight hundred thousand Americans in the United States go to bed hungry every night, and a million more are insufficiently fed and clothed?

"Where was Senator Mason last winter when American bodies froze to death in Chicago? Are no young girls in America put up for sale? Are no American children in our own land maimed and tortured physically and mentally by the conditions that surround them? How many suicides are there daily in the United States of people driven to the last awful resort by destitution, or the imminent menace of it?

"Does it hurt mothers and their little children less to starve slowly in American cities, or on American prairies, or hidden in the little forest clearings of the far West, than under the balmy skies of Cuba? Why is it that 'far away' suffering appeals so much more powerfully to the American mind than nearby anguish?

"Or is it pitiful only to suffer in the cause of liberty, and a thing quite to be expected and taken patiently to perish miserably in the cause of Sound Finance?

"Notwithstanding all which, Senator Mason, you may be sure the West is with you in the cause of Cuba. We are perfectly ready to have Uncle Sam turn in and whip all creation in the cause of universal liberty and progress, beginning with Spain and finishing up with Turkey and her backers. But are we yet so free ourselves that we dare assume to be the pillar of cloud by day and of fire by night for others' guidance?

"Out here we are extraordinarily suspicious of this sudden enthusiasm on the part of men who are so conservative in home affairs. We can't help but feel that it is not the Great American conscience that is behind the movement, as you would have us believe, but the Great American Pocket. And we think we have already made sacrifices enough to that gaping maw.

"In conclusion, Senator, a word of advice to yourself, for your own good—for you appear to have generous and noble impulses. Don't utter any more revolutionary sentiments in the Halls of Congress. Take warning by the fate of John J. Ingalls. A man who thinks as you do is not wanted in the Republican party as it is constituted to-day, and you will infallibly be turned down at the very first opportunity. Stick a pin in that. "BATTERMAN LINDSAY."

Your Boy Won't Live a Month.

So Mr. Gilman Brown, of 34 Mill St., South Gardner, Mass., was told by the doctors. His son had Lung trouble, following Typhoid Malaria, and he spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors, who finally gave him up, saying: "Your boy won't live a month." He tried Dr. King's New Discovery and a few bottles restored him to health and enabled him to go to work a perfectly well man. He says he owes his present good health to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery, and knows it to be the best in the world for Lung trouble. Trial Bottles Free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

The Choral Union Presents an Interesting Program.

McKissick's Opera House was filled with a large and appreciative audience last evening, the occasion being the first entertainment presented by the Choral Union. The program had been carefully arranged and the various numbers including solos, duos, quartettes and choruses gave a feast of vocal entertainment seldom enjoyed in Reno. If space would permit of individual mention, the critic would not be amiss in complimenting each member of the Union, as each vocalist sang his or her part in a manner that would have been creditable to an artist. As a whole the vocal part of the program demonstrated that Reno has talent in this especial branch that will compare with the larger cities on the coast, and those who missed the entertainment last evening certainly missed a treat.

The Reno Dramatic Club in their farce of "A Bad Job, or The Eccentricities of a Woman's Mind" sustained their reputation as players of no mean calibre, and the variation in the program was a pleasant feature of the evening's entertainment.

An Uncanny Visitor.

For three nights past the officers have been watching a peculiar phenomenon north of the track and are mystified at what has been observed. Officers Leeper and Logan attempted last evening to capture what appeared to them an uncanny shape in human form with a peculiar phosphorescent light surrounding it, and with this in view took positions some distance apart and waited. Suddenly the apparition or whatever it is appeared and both made a rush, but the object seemed to tread on air for a moment and then vanished, leaving the officers gazing at each other under the light of their dark lanterns. A second attempt was made with a like result.

The officers are disinclined to name the locality as they do not desire to frighten the residents, and for the same reason did not care to fire any shots. But they nevertheless insist that there is something peculiar going on as the object has been seen on several nights between 11:30 and 12:30 in the same neighborhood. Developments of a sensational character may be expected, but whether a genuine ghost or some practical joker is working the "cop" remains to be seen.

Announcement.

James P. Hixson, representing the well known firm merchant tailoring establishment of J. Edlin, 617 Market street, San Francisco, under Palace Hotel, has arrived and will remain a few days at the Arcade Hotel where he has an exhibition a full line of sample goods for gentlemen's wear, suitable for the coming and present season.

Those wishing first-class custom made clothing will do well to give him a call.

He is the only scientific, practical cutter who has taken diplomas in the principal cities in the East for correct measuring, skillful labor and correct fit, who is soliciting orders. There are a great many adventurers who are not tailors or cutters, who do not represent a responsible house, who cannot take a correct measure, subjecting the public to great annoyance and loss. Hoping the public will encourage a scientific man to do their work. Mr. Hixson is recommended.

Free Pills.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklin & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial box will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Constipation and SICK HEADACHE. For Malaria and Liver troubles they have been proved invaluable.

They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels, greatly invigorating the system. Regular size 25c. per box. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson. Druggist.

The Viavi Cause.

It is impossible to take Viavi into the system without benefit. It is purely vegetable and as a nerve and tissue builder has no equal. It can be used with perfect safety by the most delicate, and is used upon the smallest children.

Patrons of the remedy can consult our physicians free of charge. I will take pleasure in explaining its various uses to all who may call.

How a King Was Made.

It is a well known fact that men who will not be ruled by authority are yet absolutely ruled with fear when brought into the presence of the great and the mighty. "Even great divinity fears the king's king" that few men would venture to assert their independence or the right of their manhood if a sovereign's view were opposed to theirs.

This is, no doubt, an inheritance from the days of feudalism, when the monarch was indeed the legal lord of all the people. Among the few, however, who have come down to an abounding peasantry because they had the right to rely on their own rights and assert their own desires must be mentioned the name of M. Vandenesch, a subject of the king of Belgium. He called in the aid of architects and builders and proceeded to erect a house on his own heart. Unfortunately, however, his majesty looked out of the windows of his villa one day and saw that his subject's home, if it had not gratified Aladdin's and sprung up in a night, at all events interfered with his view, as did that miraculous structure with the view of the other sovereign.

The king naturally remonstrated at this want of consideration in a subject, and no doubt, expected that the monarch would have a good effect. So, indeed, it seemed, for M. Vandenesch engaged a number of workmen, who proceeded to pull down the edifice, which had only recently been finished.

Alas for the exultation of the human mind, even when that mind belongs to a potentate of the earth! As soon as the foundations of the building had been razed to the ground, and the king, no doubt, congratulated himself on that uninterrupted view of the country which he had had before, he was startled to find that an increased army of builders arrived to augment the number of those who had been employed.

Oddly enough also, a huge quantity of bricks and mortar appeared on the scene. These bricks the workmen began to use in the re-erecting of the building, and them out on top of the other with mortar between. It took a day to do this, so that the king's view was restored by the labor. Instead of a villa a 13 story high building was erected, which effectively prevented his view in every country of the world, the city of his subjects. Instead of a villa he had a palace. —San Fran. Chron.

Some idea of the magnitude of the coal resources of Humboldt county, Colo., may be formed when it is stated that there are about 40,000 acres, or each acre containing 125,000,000 tons, or a total of 4,800,000,000 tons—an amount almost beyond comprehension.
